

What's Wrong With This?

Encourage children to carefully examine one part of the classroom or space outside. Then ask them to either close their eyes or put their heads down. When they do, move one item in the room (e.g., move a chair to another spot, or hang something new on the wall).

Invite them to open their eyes and try to determine what has changed!

Prompt Children's Explanations

"Hmmm, you said it's the... Why do you think that?"
